Soda's Valentine

Copyright Tracy Lovett All Rights Reserved

So it's Valentine's Day.

A day of love.
A day of hugs
and kisses.

I have been working on something special for you. So here it is.
A Valentine. Open it. Go ahead.

Then I saw a bouquet of flowers in the window.

For a change I went into the bathroom
And saw the toilet paper hanging askew.

Did you know that stuff unrolls forever?
I didn't, but now I do.

And gave your high-heeled shoes a chew.

A black cat is shown in profile, looking down at a pair of red high-heeled shoes. The shoes are strappy and have black bows on the straps. They are placed on a light-colored surface with a pink and purple floral pattern. The cat's head is in the foreground, and its body extends towards the background.

I headed into the kitchen and I spied the stew.

Valentine's Day is complicated.
It's easy to misconstrue
the messages of love that are addressed just to you.

My message is quite simple,
direct from me to you.

While you're dressing me up for holidays
and taking pictures of me like you do...

Never forget, if I ever grew as big as the lions in the zoo,
